

A Theoretical and Experimental Study of the Knobe Effect and the Butler Problem

The project is financed by an NCN grant
(DEC-2013/11/B/HS1/03939).

Workshop I with James Beebe (University at Buffalo)

K. Paprzycka, Introduction. The Omissions Account of the Knobe effect and the Epistemic Side-Effect Effect

Part I. Obligations, norms, etc.

1. Ignacy Szczeniowski & Sławek Mijas: On knowledge and obligation. How to Falsify the Omissions Account
2. Bartosz Maćkiewicz & Katarzyna Kuś – The Omissions Account and Knobe’s Account in case of Norm Conflict
3. Wiktor Piotrowski: Attitude Ascriptions in the Knobe Effect

Pizza and carrot break

Part II. Linguistic hypotheses, linguistic structure of Knobe’s stories

4. Katarzyna Kuś & Bartosz Maćkiewicz: „Intentionally” and Polish i(ntentionality)-modifiers
5. Jan Winkowski: „Catribilly” and „fodderily”. The Need to Blame and the Effect of the Modifiers
6. Michał Barcz & Leon Ciechanowski: Where do the reasons come from? „and”, „but”, and morally neutral scenarios

Coffee and cake break

Part III. Epistemic effects

7. Marta Zaręba: Making the chairman know the environment would be helped
8. Ignacy Szczeniowski & Sławek Mijas: The Mysterious S-M Effect in Polish

Dinner for the tired, the persistent and the dedicated.